Kaiserdom was the winner of the 6-year old Dressage Horse division at the Bundeschampionate. The black Trakehner stallion followed in his bigger brother Kaiserkult's footsteps claiming the same title as Kaiserkult did in 2004.

At the Bundeschampionate Kaiserdom performed a beautiful test. Upon entering the ring he immediately made a big impression with his natural uphill carriage. Judge Christoph Hess praised the horse for his "outstanding cadence and balance, especially in the traversal movements. The tempo in medium and extended trot was regulated with much feeling..."

Kaiserdom's sire Van Dyk was Premium stallion at his licensing in 1986 in Neumünster and had already won dressage shows up to medium level at the age of six. In 1993 and 1994, he competed successfully up to advanced level and moved up to Prix St. Georges and Intermediare I in 1995. He then started at Grand Prix and competed successfully in international competitions. Van Deyk was proclaimed Trakehner Elite stallion in 1997 and Trakehner Stallion of the Year 2005.

Kaiserdom's dam is a State Premium mare who was successful in riding horse performance tests and has also produced the licensed stallion Kaiserkult, who was Federal Champion in the class of six-year-old dressage horses in 2004. Kaiserdom's dam-sire Gajus is the last son still alive of the great Trakehner sire Flaneur.

Kaiserdom is an international calibre horse and a real star prospect of the future.
